

Charade Line Stories

Sample Stories To Mime

Here are a few of my favourite 'sure-fire' Charade Line stories to get you started.

There's no limit to the number of stories you could invent. Indeed, ask a volunteer from your group to offer a story.

Story One

You walk in swinging a bag in your hand. You stop and pull out a chair and a fishing rod from the bag. You sit down, throw your line into the river, and start to relax. Suddenly, your fishing line starts to tug, and you feverishly try to reel it in. After much effort, you are disappointed to discover an old rubber boot hanging off the end of your line. You empty the water out of the boot, put it on your foot, and walk off.

Story Two

You pull an elephant into your 'space' on a long rope. You tie the rope at a stake, and then dip a rag in a bucket and start to wash the side of the elephant jumping high to get all the way to the top. You crawl underneath, wash the elephant's belly and legs. You also go to the front and wash the trunk inside and out and wash the elephant's ears as well.

Story Three

You are a high school beauty pageant contestant, anxiously awaiting the announcement of the winner. Suddenly you hear your name! You now step forward to receive your crown and roses. Then as you take your victory walk down the aisle, waving to the crowd, you encounter many misfortunes. First, you are allergic to the roses, so you begin to sneeze, but you keep on going waving and sneezing to the crowd. Then, on the way back up the aisle, your high heel breaks and you finish the walk with one heel missing!

Story Four

You're are a pregnant bird about to give birth flying around the room. As you fly, you are gathering materials for your nest. You pick up many items, varying in size, shape and weight. Once you make your nest, you lay your egg. The egg miraculously hatches, so you quickly leave the nest to pull a worm from the ground, and return to feed it to your baby.
